

The Philosophy
Foundation
THINKING CHANGES

The Sirens – Freedom and Desire

From The If Odyssey by Peter Worley

Watch the story of The Sirens on our Vimeo channel: <https://bit.ly/2YTc8sA>

Who do you think is the most free, and why?

If you liked thinking about this, why not contact kim@philosophy-foundation.org for further information on joining online philosophy sessions or Q&As with a philosopher.

Challenge - what is freedom?

Can you say what it is without using any part of the word? (e.g. 'free', 'freely' etc)?

Other questions to think about:

- If you do what you want to do, are you always free?
- Can you be free if you are unable to do some things? (Like Odysseus unable to go to the source of the sound.)
- What is the opposite of freedom?
- Is there one kind of freedom, or more than one?

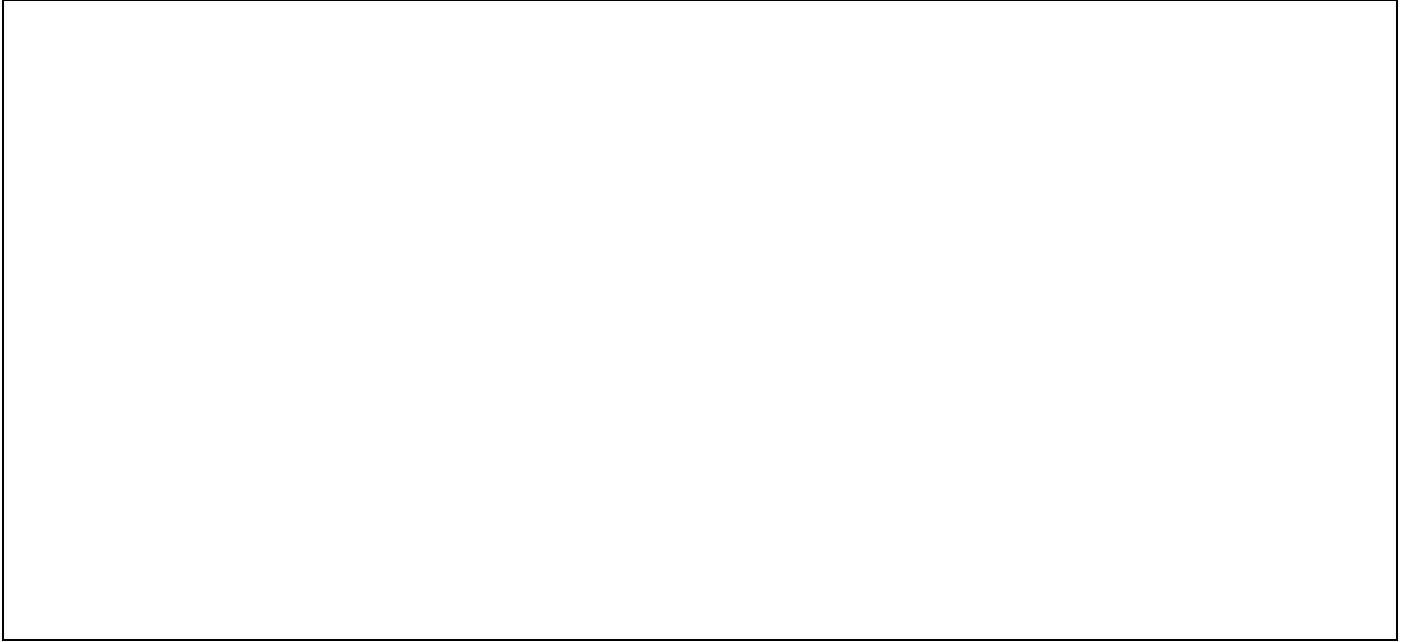

Task: watch this video clip: <https://bit.ly/3cpwvSd>

Should Larry let her have the cake?

If you liked thinking about this, why not contact kim@philosophy-foundation.org for further information on joining online philosophy sessions or Q&As with a philosopher.

AND

Would she be more free if he let her have it, or if he doesn't let her have the cake?

If you liked thinking about this, why not contact kim@philosophy-foundation.org for further information on joining online philosophy sessions or Q&As with a philosopher.